City remembers Gandhiji

Prayer meeting, bhajans mark Bapu's 150th birth anniversary

District Minister G.T. Devegowda paying floral tributes to the statue of Mahatma Gandhi at Gandhi Square in city this morning as MLA Tanveer Sait, Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar, MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadeesha and others look on.

Mysuru, Oct. 2 (RK,RKB&US)- Marking 150th birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi, programmes were held at various places in city this morning. The District Administration along with the Department of Information and Public Relations had organised a prayer meeting at Town Hall.

Earlier, District Minister G.T. Devegowda garlanded the statue of the Mahatma at Gandhi Square and administered oath to maintain cleanliness. He also released a commemorative Postal Cover and book 'Karnataka Janapada' on the occasion. A documentary featuring the life and freedom struggle of the Father of the Nation was also screened.

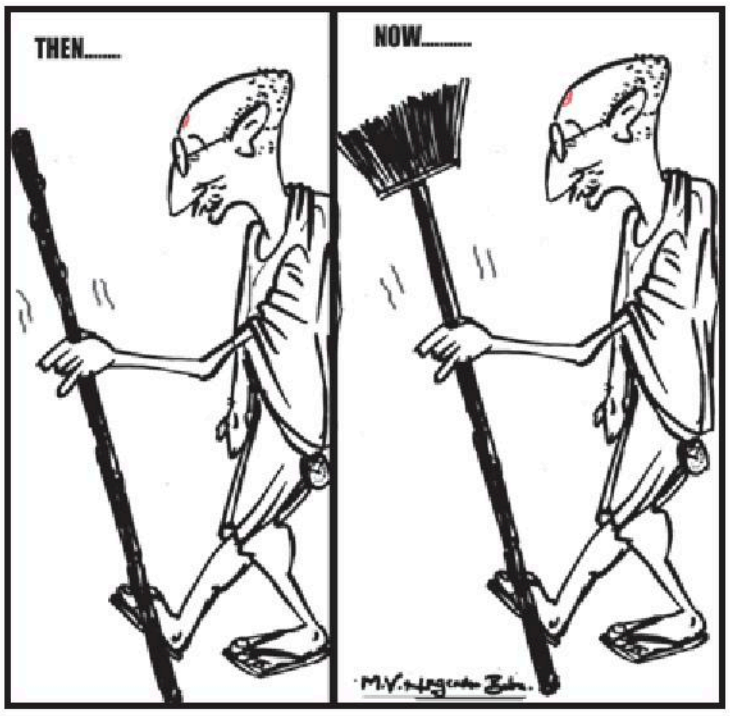
BABU'S BANTER



Al-Qaeda No. 3, terrorist Abu Zubaydah studied in Mysuru !

He was a first year BSc. Computer Science drop-out from Sarada Vilas College in 1989 along with his four Arab friends

Mysuru, Oct.2 (RK&SR)- In a shocking revelation that has come to light lately, Zayn al-Abidin Muhammad Husayn Abu Zubaydah, who was arrested by the United States (US) Forces in connection with his terror links in Pakistan in 2002, is said to have studied in Mysuru city.

He is currently kept in a highly guarded and isolated Guantonamo Bay Detention Camp in Cuba by the US. He was arrested under the Authority of Authorisation for Use of Military Force Against Terrorists (AUMF).

Zubaydah had allegedly served as Osama Bin Laden's Senior Lieutenant and Counter-Intelligence Officer, considered to be the third highest-ranking member of Al-Qaeda and managed a network of training camps.

He was involved in every major terrorist operation carried out by Al-Qaeda (including the plotting of 9/11 attack on World Trade Centre) and was engaged in planning future terrorist attacks against the US interests.

Zubaydah, who was captured by US Forces in Pakistan during March 2002, is in the US custody ever since including four-and-a-half-years in the Secret Prison Network of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). He was transferred to prisons in various countries as part of United States' rendition programme. He was extensively interrogated by CIA for his terrorist operations in many countries across the world.

Abu Zubaydah: Then and Now

MYSURU CONNECTION

Following Zubaydah's connections with Mysuru, the Internal Security Division Police of both the State and Union Governments had swooped down on Mysuru city to collect more information about his relation to the city.

Adrian Levy, one of the veteran journalists, who focuses on South Asia and Islamist militancy, is said to have visited Mysuru city recently to collect information regarding Zubaydah's stay in city.

Adrian, who has been producing a documentary on Zubaydah, met senior journalist and The Hindu Correspondent Laiqh A. Khan in Mysuru to gather information about Zubaydah at the University of Mysore.

According to sources, Zubaydah had studied in Sarada Vilas College, Krishnamurthypuram, during 1989. He had enrolled for first year BSc. Physics, Mathematics and Computer Science (PMCS) programme in the college. He studied for only one year and later discontinued as he failed in three subjects. He did not return to college after that.

Zubaydah and four of his Saudi friends had enrolled for BSc. Computer Science course as Sarada Vilas College was the only institution offering that course in the city those days. And this was the reason for foreign and other local students to swarm this College for admission.

However, Star of Mysore has been able to obtain the details of enrolment of Zubaydah and four of his friends to first year BSc., Computer Science course with their photos in the enrolment register [see facsimile above] maintained by the authorities of Sarada Vilas College.

Ambience, Atmosphere and Air

Experts are turning their heightened attention and people at large are contributing with disdain to the steadily worsening health of environment, locally, regionally, nationally, globally and even in outer space. The terms climate change, global warming, air quality, atmospheric debris, ocean-bound plastic residue and so on have begun to figure in interactions among the literati more often than witnessed until not too long ago. The comforts and conveniences being lapped up and enjoyed by human populations, drawing from the unstoppable advances in technology and the resulting devices and tools have proved to be double-edged sword, given the benefits in a long list accompanied by adverse impact on earth's atmosphere in general and its every ingredient in particular, specially air, water and soil. The many life-supporting resources, thought to be bountiful, have begun to be life-threatening, thanks to their unregulated exploitation to meet the expanding needs of people everywhere. Knowledge about this phenomenon in the form of information and data on relevant parameters brought cascading to the doorstep of people by the alert media seem to be of no avail.

Moderation in word, deed and thought consistent with the atmosphere, in its widest meaning, that all forms of life require to co-exist in total and enduring harmony, as prescribed by the wise in society of the past, has suffered a mindless neglect in our times with the dire consequences that are there for all to experience and virtually left to fate as it were.

While the ongoing relentless warning issued by various agencies across the world about the causes for global warming, along with corrective measures to avoid undesirable consequences are receiving positive response only in some pockets, one is obliged to bestow attention to issues beyond the meaning of environment as commonly talked about with focus on air quality, pollution of water bodies, denudation of forests, impoverishment of soil and so on. The nation is currently embroiled in an ambience created in its public life, given the matter carried by dailies in all languages with details of various kinds of crimes sending the law-keeping machinery into a tizzy.

The principal areas of nation's economy and its proper governance, namely Legislature, Executive and Judiciary seem to be at mutual loggerheads resulting in a societal ambience that doesn't see the land's diaspora in good light. The scenario that one sees everywhere seems to be mocking at the nation's intellectuals, who are clueless in redeeming its ambience.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

NON-ESSENTIAL SPIRIT: Ever since Finance Minister (FM) Arun Jaitley announced the government's intention to curb imports of certain non-essential items by raising tariffs, a number of representations have been made to the government on what these items should or should not be. One of the most hilarious was a letter sent to the FM's Office by a mid-level distiller. In the letter, the distiller suggested that the government should ban premium imported alcohol that are not from the country of origin. For example, scotch from only Scotland should be allowed into India. Similarly, cognac should be allowed only from France, Japanese whiskey from Japan and certain categories of beer only from Germany. The government's list of items came out on Thursday night, and needless to say, this proposal wasn't taken up. — In Business Standard.

The only cat on an island where cats are banned

Svalbard: The Norwegian archipelago of Svalbard is mostly known as one of the few places on planet Earth where people are forbidden from dying, but only a few know that this place also has a ban on cats, with one exception, a purring feline that's technically a fox named Kesha.

Kesha lives in Barentsburg, a Russian town on the island of Spitsbergen. No one knows exactly when Kesha arrived in Barentsburg, just that she was brought by Russians, and registered as a fox, in order to bypass the ban on cats.

Apart from the thick, ginger coat, Kesha doesn't even resemble a fox, but Norwegian authorities never questioned her official species, and she has been allowed to live on Svalbard. She has a human friend who welcomes her into her apartment on particularly cold nights and loves to take care of her, but for the most part, Kes-he loves her freedom.

Photos of a man sporting an impressive Dragon Ball Z-inspired tattoos have been circulating on Asian social media, leaving fans of the anime in awe. The man, who reportedly hails from Thailand's Nakhon Pathom province, has his entire torso and both his arms completely covered in Dragon Ball Z tattoos, with Sayans, Androids, Friezas, Dragons, Shinjins Tuffles and Humans all represented.

Soft gels are a suitable option for many as they are soft and easy to swallow. Because they are airtight, they have a long shelf life. Soft gels aren't suitable for vegetarians or vegans because they are usually made with gelatin from animal sources.

Re-name AIISH as Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar Institute of Speech and Hearing

Picture shows the Maharaja and Prof. CDN when they were together in Australia in 1963. His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore spent 12 days in Australia as a guest of the Federal Government. During his stay he addressed a Seminar at the University of Melbourne on Indian Philosophy and received an Honorary Doctorate from the University of Queensland. Before leaving, His Highness gave a Guest Talk through ABC [Australian Broadcasting Commission] on his family's 500 years association with the Government of Mysore and thanked Australia for generous assistance under the Colombo Plan in the gigantic task of building up a planned and developing economy. The Maharaja of Mysore is seen with Dr. D.P. Singahl, first lecturer in the History and Culture of Pakistan; Mrs. Singahl and Prof. C. D. Narasimhaiah, after receiving his Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws at the University of Queensland.

Sir,

Apropos the letter from C.N. Srinath, Director, Dhvanyaloka, Bogadi Road, Mysuru, under the caption "Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar's Birth Centenary: Make A Beginning" in SOM dated Sept. 12. It is heartening to read the concern shown by Srinath in this regard.

But his comment that "the Palace family at least should have evinced some interest in the context" needs some clarification though it is difficult to discern what exactly he means by "Palace Family" !

For the record, Maharaja was born on 18.7.1919. Thus his Birth Centenary falls on 18.7.2019. Hence the talk of celebration may be a bit premature.

Yet a few organisations in Mysuru celebrated Maharaja's birthday this year as part of centenary year event. I was a speaker in one of them which was held on 20.7.2018 at Mysore Chamber of Commerce and Industry (MCCI) premises wherein Legislators S.A. Ramdas and L. Nagendra were chief guests.

As a matter of fact Ramdas promised to get a commemorative stamp and coin issued by Government of India by next year. One of the requests put forth by me to him was to use his good offices to get the name of All India Institute of Speech and Hearing (AIISH) changed to Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar Institute of Speech and Hearing as he was instrumental in starting this Institute at Mysuru.

Let me assure that the daughters of late Maharaja will certainly celebrate the Birth Centenary of their revered father in a befitting manner next year.

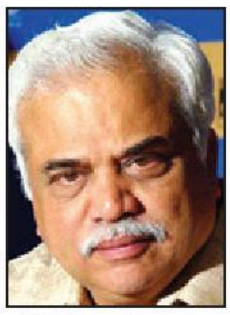
Kurubarahalli Sy. No. 4 and Alanahalli Sy. No. 41 'B-Kharab' Land

Officialdom's lethargy, indifference delaying implementation of Cabinet Decision

H.D. Kumaraswamy

Siddharamaiah



R.V. Deshpande

Mysuru, Oct. 2- In keeping with the Kannada adage "Devaru Kottaroo Pujari Kodalla" (Even if God grants you, the Priest withholds), the officialdom's lethargic and even indifferent attitude to the suffering of the people, has resulted in the inordinate delay of seven months in implementing the March 3, 2018 State Cabinet decision to delete CITB and MUDA Layouts coming under Kurubarahalli Survey No. 4 and Alanahalli Survey No. 41 from 'B-Kharab' classification.

The State Cabinet headed by the then Chief Minister Siddharamaiah which met at Vidhana Soudha on Mar. 3, 2018, discussed 109 issues and Kurubarahalli and Alanahalli land row was the 78th among them (subject matter No. C230/2018). See facsimile.

The Cabinet, after a prolonged discussion, decided to leave out a total of 354.29½ acres (including 205.09½ acres of Siddarthanagar, 105 acres of KC Layout and 44.20 acres of JC Nagar Layout) coming under the two survey numbers, from 'B-Kharab' classification.

The Cabinet also decided to hand over the land to MUDA after 'B-Kharab' deletion. The Cabinet had directed the then Revenue Minister and the officials to bring the Cabinet's decision to the notice of the High Court as Kurubarahalli Sy. No.4 row was already in the HC.

Although seven months have passed since the Cabinet decision, the concerned Minister nor the officials have shown any interest on implementing the Cabinet decision. A reflection on the lack of sympathy to the four years of suffering and pain of nearly 25,000 people living in these Layouts.

With the announcement of the poll schedule on Mar. 27, the then Revenue Minister Kagodu Thimmappa was only keen on his future political career, while the officials never bothered to follow up the matter. Even though JD(S)-Congress coalition government came to power nearly five months ago following the May 2018 elections, neither the new Revenue Minister R.V. Deshpande nor the officials of the Revenue Department took up the follow up action on the Siddharamaiah government's Cabinet Decision in this regard.

In the meantime, the residents of Siddarthanagar, K.C. Nagar and J.C. Nagar Layouts under the two survey numbers, are eagerly awaiting the implementation of the Mar. 3, 2018 Cabinet Decision, which has not happened so far. The CM's Janaspandana public contact programme will not be a success until he takes the officials to task for their lackadaisical attitude.

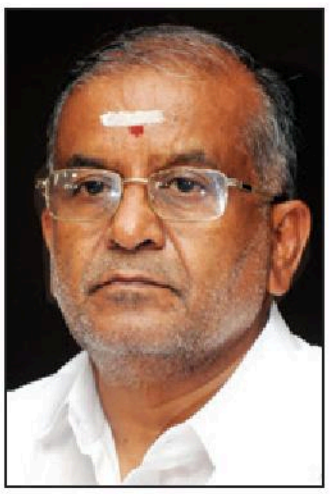
GTD's Promise



G.T. Devegowda

Mysuru, Oct.2- District-in-Charge Minister G.T. Devegowda (GTD), speaking to Star of Mysore yesterday, promised to speak to the Revenue Minister R.V. Deshpande and also the Revenue Secretary in this regard to take steps to implement the Cabinet Decision.

He said he would ask the Revenue Secretary to immediately apprise the Advocate General about this matter pending in the High Court and inform the Court about the Cabinet Decision in this regard.

According to him, thereafter, the Revenue Secretary would be asked to issue orders as per the Cabinet Decision to the Deputy Commissioner of Mysuru District who will then pass final orders excluding the Layouts coming under the two Survey Numbers.

BACKGROUND

Following a direction from the Government and a Court ruling, the then Deputy Commissioner (DC) C. Shikha in May 2015 had passed an order declaring land coming under Kurubarahalli Sy. No. 4 and Alanahalli Sy. No. 41 as 'B-Kharab' land (Govt. land). Following the then DC's order thousands of residents of CITB and MUDA developed Layouts of Siddarthanagar, Vidyanagar, K.C. Nagar, J.C. Nagar coming under the two survey numbers were put to lot of hardship as MUDA and MCC stopped issuing land documents such as khata transfer, building plan approval, CR etc. As such, the residents could not deal with their sites or properties as they wanted.

The aggrieved residents, who formed an association under the leadership of BJP National Council Member and former KEA Chairman B.P. Manjunath, staged demonstrations and road blockages to draw the attention of the government for ending the row. Due to consistent pressure from the residents, the then Congress Government headed by CM Siddharamaiah assured of resolving the row, following which the then State Cabinet which met on Mar. 3, 2018 decided to delete the lands developed as Layouts by CITB and MUDA coming under the two Survey Numbers from 'B-Kharab' classification.

A revolutionary turn in RSS?

Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

Imagine the Pope criticising Jesus Christ. If that is too ecclesiastical, imagine Sitaram Yechury rewriting Karl Marx. Actually we cannot imagine either because the Catholic Church and the Communist Party are rule-bound doctrinaire establishments that do not brook deviations. So is the RSS. Therefore, technically, we cannot imagine Mohan Bhagwat going against the tenets of M.S. Golwalkar, as sacrosanct in the RSS universe as K. B. Hedgewar. Yet it happened. In his eleventh year as the acclaimed supremo of the RSS, Mohan Bhagwat said that The Bunch of Thoughts, the Golwalkar book that has been the Gita-Bible-Koran of RSS cadres, was not to be taken seriously today. Those thoughts pertained to a particular context and need not be considered as eternally valid. Times change and accordingly our thoughts, too, must change. Hedgewar himself had said, Bhagwat reminded his people, that we are free to adapt to times as they change.

Bhagwat did not stop with Golwalkar. In the course of a three-day lecture series in Delhi, he decimated many Holy Cows of the RSS. When Hindutvavadis had been declaring that they would re-write the Constitution to fit into Deen Dayal Upadhyaya's vision of Dharmarajya, Bhagwat said: "The Sangh works after accepting the primacy of the Constitution and we respect it fully." No reference here to the BJP's standing objections to the words 'secular' and 'socialist' in the Constitution.

Bhagwat also rejected a view expressed by BJP boss Amit Shah whose capacity to make coarse statements has been harming the country internally and internationally. Shah's call for a "Congress-mukt Bharat" had become notorious because it actually meant an Opposition-mukt Bharat lying at the feet of a monopolistic BJP. Bhagwat said: "We are for all-inclusive Bharat, we are not about mukt." He even complimented the Congress which had "many great personalities who sacrificed their lives and who still inspire us."

The concept of Hindutva, too, was revised by Bhagwat. Savarkar who had coined the word Hindutva, was clear that Hindu Rashtra should be peopled by only those who descended from Hindu culture. Bhagwat turned that theory on its head and said: "Hindu Rashtra does not mean that there is no place for Muslims. If it is said that Muslims cannot stay in India, it won't be Hindutva any more." From the same chair Bhagwat now occupies, Golwalkar had referred to the "hostility and murderous mood" of Muslims and declared: "Foreign races must lose their separate existence to merge in the Hindu race. Otherwise they may stay in the country wholly subordinated to the Hindu nation, deserving no privileges."

What is going on? How can the RSS Head move so far away from the positions his predecessors had taken? Bhagwat is by no means a lesser RSS ideologue. Therefore, there must be a reason for him to discard old orthodoxies and embark on a course that looks reasonable, fair, progressive and populist.

The explanation most people will accept is that Mohan Bhagwat is merely softening the RSS-BJP's image at election time. Fringe groups like Bhajrang Dal and Sri Ram Sene run amok hurting BJP's voter appeal. Although the RSS helped the VHP to create Bhajrang Dal as a bunch of street fighters in the run-up to the Ayodhya movement, Bhajrangis had become an embarrassment and the RSS' attempt to wrest back control of VHP and Bhajrang Dal did not really succeed. Is Bhagwat giving a message that these groups must be checked, that steps must be taken to remove the impression that lynchers have tacit government backing? It may be too much to hope that Bhagwat also wanted to send a signal to Amit Shah. For all his excesses, Shah is building a grassroots network the RSS always wanted the BJP to do.

So, is Bhagwat's new stance a genuine attempt to discard the RSS' image as a hidebound, overly religious, intolerant and ultimately cold-blooded ideological outfit and recast it in a more acceptable garb suited to the modern age? The farce of India's HRD Minister rejecting Darwin's theory and the Science Minister saying that Vedic theory was superior to E = mc2 has made India a laughing stock among educated people. That such Neanderthals, unknown to the public before, became Ministers of the Republic of India did no good to either the Modi Government or the RSS. If the RSS Chief is making an attempt to save his flock from the fossilised minds wearing the Hindu cap, it would be a service to the nation. But can even Mohan Bhagwat get rid of the medievalists in his camp?

57th Heritage Music Festival at 8th Cross Ganapathi

Powerful and Emotive Voice

By Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan

Aditya Prakash from Chennai is seen presenting a vocal concert at 8th Cross, V.V. Mohalla, in city on Sept.16 as part of the 57th Heritage Music Festival with Ganeshotsava organised by Sri Prasanna Vidya Ganapathi Mandali Charitable (SPVGMC) Trust. He is accompanied by Ambur Padmanabhan on mridanga, G.S. Ramanujam on ghata and Nishant Chandar on violin.

American born Indian classical vocalist Aditya Prakash gave a Karnatak vocal concert on the 4th Day of Paramparika Ganeshotsava at 8th Cross, V.V. Mohalla on Sept.16. Aditya impressed the gathering with his powerful and emotive voice. In the concert, he was accompanied by Nishant Chandar on violin, Ambur Padmanabhan on mridanga and G.S. Ramanujam on ghata.

'Vatapi Ganapatim Bhajeham,' Deekshitar's best known composition, was suitably chosen for the occasion and the kalpana swaras developed quite unusually at 'Murari Pramukhadyupasthitam' were extensive and luxurious. 'Mamava Meenakshi,' another composition of Deekshitar in Varali set to Mishra Chapu was prefixed by an elegant alapana and the sahitya ornated at 'Shyame Shankari Digvijaya Pratapini,' followed by refined swaras. It is interesting to note that Deekshitar has made a reference to 'Vallaki' Veena in the pallavi of this composition — 'Manikya vallaki pani' (she who holds the Ruby-studded vallaki veena).

'Ramanama Payasakke Krishna Nama Sakkare' by Purandara Dasaru in Ananda Bhairavi was a welcome surprise but could be enjoyed better if without the shruti issue which persisted throughout the concert later. 'Nada Tanumanisham Shankaram' by Tyagaraja in Chittaranjani and 'Parama Purusham' in Lalita Panchama in Khanda Chapu by Swati Tirunal were good fillers.

The main attraction of the evening was Bilahari. Aditya developed the raga well. The rendition showed the influence of violin in a few sancharas in the ragalapana, especially in the 'jaru' gamakas.

The choice of 'Sri Chamundeshwari palaya mam' brought smiles to the elderly audience.

The Charana part 'Raka Nishakara Sannibha Vadane' was chosen for elaboration and the kalpana swaras were extravagant.

Ambur Padmanabha and Ramanujam offered a vibrant taniyavartanam.

The post-tani part brought a few chutukas. The first was a shloka on Krishna; 'Kasturi tilakam lalata phalake' split in various ragas — Kapi, Hamsanandi, Suruti and finally, Neelambari leading on to 'Madhava Mamava Deva' (Narayana Teerthar). 'Ranga Baro Panduranga Baro' in Maand by Purandara Dasaru, Swati Tirunal Bhajan 'Vishweshwara Darushan kar,' Puranadara Dasaru's popular 'Jagadoddharana' sung by almost all the musicians on this dais this season and the Jhanjuti tillana of Veene Seshanna were enjoyable.

Aditya has a voice made for singing. If he dedicates himself to only Karnatak music, his music will have more depth and involvement.

A Delightful Violin Trio

By Dr. Rama V. Bennur

Mysuru Vid. H.K. Narasimhamurthy, flanked by his son Vid. H.N. Bhaskar and granddaughter Pruthvi Bhaskar, is seen presenting violin concert at Chandrasekharendra Saraswathi Bhavana recently. They are accompanied by Vid. A.Radhesh on mridanga and Vid. V.S. Ramesh on morcing.

The Hoysala Karnataka Sangha of Mysuru created a unique opportunity of listening to three generations of violin on the 17th of September 2018, at the Chandrashekarendra Saraswathi Bhavana at its premises. The father, son and granddaughter enthralled the audience with their melodious bowing. The most popular violinist of Mysuru Vid. H.K. Narasimhamurthy (HKN), his son Vid. H.N. Bhaskar and his daughter Pruthvi Bhaskar were the artistes of the day.

Both H.K. Narasimhamurthy and Bhaskar are the disciples of the legendary M.S. Gopalakrishnan of Parur. They have imbibed the unique style of fingering and bowing that is known as 'Parur style' of playing.

The clarity in sound in the speedy sangathis and the mellifluous flow of the nada are striking in their playing.

HKN sticks to the traditional playing while Bhaskar, the much sought after violinist of Chennai, enjoys exploring the new vistas. Young and upcoming Pruthvi assures the listeners of a bright future ahead. She is all set to follow the path of her father and grandfather.

They were accompanied on mridanga by Vid. A. Radhesh and on morching by Vid. V.S. Ramesh respectively.

M.L. Krishnaswamy, President of the Sangha, had sponsored this programme.

The highlight of the well-planned concert was a Raga-Taana and Pallavi that was presented by the trio in three different ragas! A rare experience indeed.

Bhaskar started the alapana with Shanmukhapriya. He played the complex phrases with striking ease. His execution was flawless. The precision and the control on the instrument is phenomenal.

HKN's choice was raga Abhogi. He adheres to the tradition and successfully brings out the raga bhava in every phrase he plays. Pruthvi opted raga Hamsanandi. The little fingers created magic with the soul stirring long notes. (But the father seemed to be very much concerned!)

She is undoubtedly a promising violinist. This was followed by excellent Taana by all the three in the respective ragas.

The pallavi was presented individually in the three different ragas that was set to Tisra Triputa taala. The lyrics would start before the taala (atheetha edupu). In the Kalpana swaras, Bhaskar brought the melody of Behag, HKN played Madhuvanthi and Pruthvi again pleased the listeners with Chalanata.

The popular compositions like 'Anupama gunambudhi' (Athana-Tyagaraja), 'Bantureethi kolu' (Hamsanada-Tyagaraja), 'Brocheva revarura' (Khamach-Mysuru Vasudevachar) and 'Janani ninuvina' (Reethigowla-Subbaraya Shastri) were in unison and decorated with alapana and kalpana swaras.

The lively strokes by Radhesh and the morching by Ramesh enhanced the musical experience. The concert ended with a few tuneful Devaranamas like 'Tunga theera viharam', 'Jagadoddharana' and 'Tamburi meetidava.'

Home Ministry seeks report

Bengaluru, Oct.2- The National Investigation Agency (NIA) has unearthed a plot by Jamaat-ul-Mujahideen members to kill Buddhist Monk Dalai Lama and the Union Home Ministry sought a report on the issue from the State Government.

Union Home Minister Rajnath Singh has directed Karnataka Home Minister Dr. G. Parameshwara, DGP Neelamani N. Raju and heads of Intelligence Department to give a comprehensive report on the issue, sources said.

The NIA has formally named two persons in a recently filed charge-sheet, in an alleged plot to kill the Dalai Lama.

Jahidul Islam, a Bangladeshi resident and Adil Sheikh alias Asadullah, a resident of West Bengal, who were picked up from Ramanagaram and Bengaluru in August this year.

According to NIA's charge-sheet filed on Sept.27, the accused were a part of a conspiracy to show their solidarity with the Rohingya Muslims who have been fighting against the Myanmar Government.

The terrorist outfit is suspected to have carried out an operation to trigger three Improvised Explosive Devices (IEDs) at the Mahabodhi Temple when the Dalai Lama was visiting in January, this year.

However, the plot was foiled as the devices were discovered by the security agencies.

So far, the NIA has arrested seven people, including Jamaat-ul-Mujahideen's top leader Mohammed Jahidul Islam.

Dalai Lama's representative expresses confidence in Home Ministry: Meanwhile, Jigme Sultrim, representative of the Dogyuling Tibetan Settlement, has expressed complete confidence in the Ministry of Home (MoH), following reports about the conspiracy to assassinate the Dalai Lama.

Sultrim said the Dalai Lama enjoyed Z+ security and the Home Ministry would conduct a probe into the conspiracy.

Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy, speaking to reporters in Bengaluru, said that no plot had been hatched in Karnataka to assassinate Dalai Lama. "As per the information provided by the State Police, no such attempt was made in Karnataka. These are just rumours," he added.

Bank gold examiner cheats Bank of over Rs.31 lakh

He had obtained loans by pledging fake gold in the names of Bank's customers

Periyapatna, Oct. 2 (HDR&KS)- A gold examiner of a bank at Kittur in Periyapatna taluk, has allegedly cheated the bank to the tune of over Rs.31 lakh, by pledging fake gold jewellery in the names of Bank's customers and the customers who came to know about this after they received notices from the Bank staged a protest in front of the Bank yesterday.

It is learnt that Rajesh, the gold examiner of the Bank, had pledged fake gold jewellery in the name of about 25 Bank customers since about two years and had obtained loans to the tune of over Rs.31 lakh. As he had not paid the loan instalments for many months, the Bank had issued notices to the Bank customers in whose names Rajesh had taken the loans. When the customers approached the Bank for clarifications, the fraud had come to light.

The customers, who staged protest yesterday in front of the Bank, demanded a thorough probe into the alleged fraud besides urging for stringent punishment to the accused and set right the problem.

Meanwhile, Bank customers Dinesh and Aleem, said that they themselves took Rajesh to the Regional Office in Mysuru and handed him over to the Bank authorities and alleged that the Bank authorities instead of taking action against Rajesh, they left him without taking any action.

They also alleged that the Kittur Bank Manager Bharat told them that the Bank would give them loans and complaints would be registered against them too and has asked us to take the loans and return the loan through instalments.

Meanwhile, ZP Member K.S. Manjunath, who visited the Bank, has urged the authorities to conduct a probe into the alleged fraud case and provide justice to the Bank customers who have been cheated.

Cheated Bank customers Mahadev, Girish, Prakash, Appaji, Harish, Pradeep, Amla Pasha, Bhagyamma and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Panoply

Pronunciation: PAN-uh-plee

Meaning: A full suit of armour or something forming a protective covering; a display of all appropriate appurtenances.

Origin: Panoply comes from the Greek word 'panoplia', which referred to the full suit of armour worn by hoplites, heavily armed infantry soldiers of ancient Greece. Panoplia is a blend of the prefix pan, meaning "all," and hopla, meaning "arms" or "armour." (As one may have guessed already, hopla is also an ancestor of hoplite.) Panoply entered the English language in the 17th century, and since then it has developed other senses which extend both the "armour" and the "full set" aspects of its original use.

Example: Children in this stage understand the panoply of religious or divine beings within the religious belief system.

THE ODD WORD

Scofflaw

A person who flouts the law.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Fair-weather friend

Meaning: Used to refer a friend who is not reliable in difficult times; one who does not stand by you at your tough times is your fair-weather friend.

Origin: This idiom is used since at least the mid-1800s, but probably originated later. Though its origin is not available, it can be understood through a story. Fair-weather refers to 'mild weather', so the idiom refers to a friend who can be relied upon when the weather is good but abandons once when the weather turns stormy. There is a related famous sailing saying, the fair-weather sailor. A real sailor sails all the time and can handle things even in stormy seas. A fair-weather sailor is a recreational sailor who only sails during calm weather, and cannot be relied upon when the weather turns. Such sailors would blame the weather if they had an accident, when in fact; it was their own poor skill. Similarly, a fair-weather friend might blame circumstances, even when the real cause is their own inattention to the problem.

Example: Simran is looking for a loyal friend, not a fair-weather friend.

QUOTE BOX

There is some self-interest behind every friendship. There is no friendship without self-interests. This is a bitter truth. — Chanakya
